

Join Michael Kusugak

For an hour of storytelling

Michael grew up living in igloos, sod huts, and skin tents. He traveled by dog team following the caribou, or living on the sea ice so that his family can hunt seals, whales, walrus, and catch fish to eat. Michael uses his experiences growing up listening to stories told by his grandmother in his storytelling sessions. He weaves these experiences with experiences of what life was like living a nomadic traditional life of Inuit along with the tremendous change that has occurred in the past 60 years.

BROUGHT TO YOU BY YOUR LOCAL LIBRARY!

Saturday April 30th at 2pm

In the Library

Join us for Michael's second trip to Fort St. John

FORT ST. JOHN

PUBLIC LIBRARY